

Conditions of Limited Warranty Coverage

Only defects in material and workmanship are covered by corrective repair or replacement as specified in Old West Mattress Company, LLC's limited warranty. Approval of corrective repairs or replacement must be given by an authorized Old West Mattress Company, LLC representative or the retailer where you purchased your product. Remedial action on the mattress does not automatically extend to the foundation. This limited warranty is granted only to the original purchaser. Proof of purchase and law tag are required before any warranty consideration may begin. Cost of processing warranty claims including, but not limited to, in-home inspections and transportation costs are the responsibility of the buyer.

Length of Coverage

The limited warranty provides coverage for your sleep set from the date of purchase, per the schedule attached. Once used, the limited warranty period is not extended or renewed.

Bedding Care a Must

To qualify for service under this limited warranty, the mattress and foundation, with the exception of the defect to be remedied, must be in good condition and not otherwise damaged or abused. Bedding with fabric stains; soiling or burns negates this warranty. You can help preserve your warranty rights on your Old West Mattress Company, LLC bedding by following these do's and don'ts:

One-sided beds rotate regularly at least once every three months.

Two-sided beds turn over end to end and rotate regularly, at least once every three months.

Please use a high quality mattress pad to protect your mattress from stains and soiling.

You must use the proper frame support. Be sure that a queen and king size frame has the proper center support. A bed with a headboard/footboard set up must also have proper center support for queen and king size.

Handles are for positioning the mattress only. Do not use them to carry or turn the mattress.

If you remove the law tag, keep it with your receipt as you will need it for your limited warranty claim.

Do not let kids jump on your new sleep set. Rough housing can cause damage to the interior of your new sleep set. It is also dangerous to your kids.

Do not bend or fold your new sleep set as it can cause damage to the interior construction and permanently bend the border wires.
